Most conferences just give people ideas.

What if your entire audience could share theirs?

A multiplayer keynote that turns audience sketches into an industry vision. Live.

"A pleasure working with you again... something VERY cool you were able to bring to the stage"
Katie Perera – Director of Conference Strategy, SXSW

ABOUT HENRY

Henry Coutinho-Mason is a futurist and author. He created VisuAIse Futures to transform a traditional keynote into a shared experience that allows audiences to explore the future, together.

Winner, Smart Meetings 'Best of Stage' 2026 – Innovation Accelerators.

Let's make your audience part of the program.

Every engagement starts with one question: what would be most valuable for your entire audience to explore together? We build the keynote and output around your biggest industry issues.
